At Mt. Vernon, Ohio, on Tuesday last, two little children of Mr. William Maxwell, named Cecelia, aged about five ly burned during the temporary absence of their mother from home. It is supposed that while playing with matche they set their clothing on fire. A lady passing by the house heard the screams, rushed in and succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but not until both of the children were horribly burned. The little girl died the same evening, but the little boy was still living on Thursday ev-ening, although no hopes were entertained of his recovery.
